Women in Arab Society

Dr. Barbara Stowasser

I. Introduction.

II. The changing role of women in Iraq.

III. History of social and cultural development of women in Iraq.

IV. Factors that speeded social and cultural development of women in Iraq.

- The campaign for literacy.
- The General Federation of Iraqi Women.
- The Iran-Iraq war (1980-1988).

V. Gender inequalities in the Ba'athist personal status codes.

VI. Iraqi women's deteriorating position after the Iran-Iraq war (1980-1988) and after the Gulf War of 1991.

VII. The Kurdish region of Northern Iraq.

VIII. Advancing Iraqi women's participation in democracy, governance, and public decision-making.

IX. Writing the new constitution: women activists divided between supporters of secular versus religion-derived personal status law.

X. Women's struggle for security and economic rights.